
Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction 1
Gina M. Pérez, Frank A. Guridy, and Adrian Burgos, Jr.

PART I

Citizenship, Belonging, and (the Limits of) Latina/o Inclusion

1 Singing the “Star-SpanGLISH Banner”: The Politics and Pathologization of Bilingualism in U.S. Popular Media 27
María Elena Cepeda

2 “¡Puuurrrrooo MÉXICO!”: Listening to Transnationalism on U.S. Spanish-Language Radio 44
Dolores Inés Casillas

3 Hayandose: Zapotec Migrant Expressions of Membership and Belonging 63
Lourdes Gutiérrez Nájera

4 Becoming Suspect in Usual Places: Latinos, Baseball, and Belonging in El Barrio del Bronx 81
Adrian Burgos, Jr., and Frank A. Guridy

PART II

Gender, Sexuality, and the Politics of Memory and Representation

5 Gay Latino Histories/Dying to Be Remembered: AIDS Obituaries, Public Memory, and the Queer Latino Archive 103
Horacio N. Roque Ramírez

6	All About My (Absent) Mother: Young Latina Aspirations in Real Women Have Curves and Ugly Betty Deborah Paredez	129
7	Making “The International City” Home: Latinos in Twentieth-Century Lorain, Ohio Pablo Mitchell and Haley Pollack	149
8	Hispanic Values, Military Values: Gender, Culture, and the Militarization of Latina/o Youth Gina M. Pérez	168
PART III
Latina/o Activisms and Histories
9	Going Public? Tampa Youth, Racial Schooling, and Public History in the Cuentos de mi Familia Project John McKiernan-González	189
10	The Mission in Nicaragua: San Francisco Poets Go to War Cary Cordova	211
11	From the Near West Side to 18th Street: Un/Making Latino/a Barrios in Postwar Chicago Lilia Fernández	233
12	Transglocal Barrio Politics: Dominican American Organizing in New York City Ana Aparicio	253
	About the Contributors	273
	Index	277